2018 COMMUNITY REPORT

What if someone drew your profile and asked you to color it in showing who you are . . .
your hopes and dreams, your favorite foods, your hobbies
. . . what would it
look like?

That's the question the Portland Children's Levy asked children and families this year when we visited six different programs we support.

The participants in our art project let us draw their profile and then colored it with images representing who they are – or who they hope to become.

They used imagination, creativity and some colored markers for their illustrations.

These colorful profiles reflect the empowering impact of PCL-funded programs.

Dear Portlander:

No doubt the past year has been a difficult one. Yet despite decisions being made at the national level, our community has responded with an outpouring of humanity, decency and compassion that has heartened our spirit and bolstered our resolve.

Rising to the challenge, organizations supported by the Portland Children's Levy continue to reach out to disenfranchised and historically underserved families. They empower immigrants, refugees and minorities so children can overcome institutional barriers and experience the full promise and potential of our city, state and country.

Levy-supported programs are working everyday throughout Portland: youngsters arrive at kindergarten ready to succeed; after-school programs keep students safe and stimulated in engaging classes; children in foster care receive nurturing and attention from mentors and other caring adults; and more families have access to nutritious and healthy food.

We remain firm in our commitment to stand together: united in our belief in equity for all, and knowing that the Portland Children's Levy continues to be a source of hope and opportunity for families.

Sincerely,

Dan Saltzman, Portland City Commissioner
Chair, Portland Children's Levy Allocation Committee

Dan: I like reading, blue grass music, the Oregon coast and getting to visit all of the wonderful Levy-supported programs throughout the city.

PCL STRONGLY BELIEVES in the inherent right of all children having educational and economic opportunities to thrive and prosper.

OUR GOALS

- Prepare children for school
- Support their success in and out of the classroom
- Reduce racial and ethnic disparities in their well-being and school success

Knowing that historical and institutional barriers, economic instability and systemic racism are key factors that explain disparities in our community, PCL supports:

- Positive early development
- School engagement and academic achievement
- High school graduation
- Family safety and stability

FISCAL RESPONSIBILITY

The Portland Children's Levy is overseen by a five-member Allocation Committee that meets publicly to make funding decisions. It is composed of a Portland City Commissioner, a Multnomah County Commissioner and three citizen members appointed by the City, County and the Portland Business Alliance.

The Levy has annual audits by an independent firm with results published on our website at www.portlandchildrenslevy.org. An administrative cap of 5 percent means that proven Levy programs receive 95 cents of every dollar. City homeowners support the Levy through a property tax of about $60 a year for a home with an assessed value of $150,000.

ETHNICITY

PRIMARY LANGUAGE SPOKEN AT HOME

PORTLAND NEIGHBORHOOD

*These pie charts represent the majority of Levy-funded programs which annually serve 11,500 children. They do not include Hunger Relief services that annually provide food to nearly 16,000 children, 57 percent who were children of color; 45 percent who spoke a first language other than English; and 70 percent who resided in East Portland.

E A R L Y C H I L D H O O D

Helping children prepare for kindergarten.

Early childhood programs lead to better reasoning and language skills as well as healthy social and emotional development.

Latino Network

Offers weekly preschool groups for children and parents, focused on Latino families.

At Lent Elementary, parents and caregivers shared the strengths and skills their children have gained this year.

Emanuel is a fast learner and knows letter sounds and can count to 10.

Dayani is independent and picks out her own clothes before she comes to school.

David cried when coming to school last year, but now he likes it and says he is a "big boy."

Tony likes trucks and to sing and hear stories.

School has helped Celeste to be less shy.

Isabella is happy and she loves to smile.

Keyla is smart and helpful and loves coming to school.

AFTER-SCHOOL PROGRAMS

A safe place for students to learn and have fun.

Students gain self-esteem, confidence and leadership skills in a safe haven with caring adults who provide academic support and fun activities.

Girls Inc.
 OF THE PACIFIC NORTHWEST
 Offers after-school program for girls focused on youth development at Portland schools for students ages 8-14.
 Arleta Elementary students filled their profiles with drawings of their favorite rock bands, sports, hobbies and food.
 They have big dreams for their future.

CHILD ABUSE PREVENTION & INTERVENTION

Empowering the development of strong families. Children thrive when parents gain parenting skills and are supported in their role of parent.

POIC+RAHS
 Provides in-home and classroom parenting education and support focusing on African American families. As they colored their profiles, students talked about hopes and dreams for their children and their goals to be empowered and involved parents.

Austen: I want to be a successful young black male and be a great father and a great leader.

Xavier: I want to own my own business.

Fabiola: I'm going to college to become a nurse.

Alashe: I want to be a good mom and always try my best and to never give up.

Lynn (teacher): My hope for these students is that they would be nurturing, loving and compassionate parents.

Shaleyah: I want to be the best mom that I can be.

M E N T O R I N G P R O G R A M S

One-to-one help to support academic and social skills.

Positive, caring, consistent adult role models support students' engagement in school and help them realize their academic and life goals.

IRCO
IMMIGRANT & REFUGEE COMMUNITY ORGANIZATION
 Offers community-based mentoring program for high school immigrant and refugee youth. High school students in the Refugee and Immigrant Mentoring program illustrated what they enjoy about their new lives in Portland. They plan to go away to college, with many wanting to return to Portland to make a difference in their community.

Kushal: I like airplanes and I want to figure out how to build a plane. Nepal

Faisal: I want to be a policeman to help kids and their families when they have problems. Somalia

Eid: I like computers. Ethiopia

Amin: I want to build things. Somalia

Sevak: I want to be an engineer to change the world for the positive. Nepal

"I once wanted to change the world so I changed myself"
Abdinasir

Abdinasir: I want to be either a motivational speaker or a policeman. We don't have as many Somali cops as we need. Somalia

Hassan: I want to be a policeman so other Somalis can see me. Somalia

H U N G E R R E L I E F

Getting healthy and nutritious food to children and families.

Children who have consistent and nutritious meals can concentrate on learning, have healthy growth and fewer behavioral problems.

Oregon Food Bank

Provides food for school-based pantries, produce distribution at summer food sites, nutrition education, and classes in cooking and budgeting for families.

While their families shopped for fresh fruit and vegetables, grains, canned goods and dairy products at the Earl Boyles Elementary School food pantry, children focused on what makes them happy - now and in the future - as they colored in their profiles.

Enbao: I want to be a teacher because my teachers are nice.

Lupita: I want to be a doctor. Sometimes I play doctor with my dad and I give him a check up.

Porsche: I want to be an artist. I love to draw.

Anais: I want to make cupcakes and I love unicorns.

Lyuda: I like to help out and make people happy.

Maria (parent): It makes me feel good to volunteer. It's very positive to help our school community and be a model for my two daughters.

Daisy Jane: I want to be a vet because I like to help animals.

F O S T E R C A R E

Supporting the well-being and development of children and youth in foster care.

Programs work with children and youth to strengthen academic and life skills and assure the presence of caring adults.

Friends of the Children

Provides intensive year-round, long-term mentoring services for children in foster care beginning in kindergarten and lasting through high school.

Professional mentors and the youth enjoy weekly time together which includes a variety of academic and enrichment activities such as having fun together coloring in their profiles at Friends' Rockwood facility.

Program Youth: I want to be a cop. I like to play rescue.

Professional Mentor: We have a lot of adventures together. She's really compassionate, is independent and has a wonderful sense of humor.

Program Youth: I can be myself around her, no one judges me. I like how we mess around and tell jokes.

Program Youth: I love my three dogs: Blue, Cocoa and Momita.

Professional Mentor: I love giving back to youth. I feel that everyone in this world needs somebody.
